

This wholesale bringing of plane loads of foreign millionaire home buyers into the country is not helping the children and grandchildren of the citizens who paid their taxes and voted for the 'politicians' to do the right thing for the citizens of this country. Now they are not (talking freely and boasting) of bringing these foreigners into the country to buy houses because the local citizens are complaining, the Real estates and their friends, the Banks are saying that the numbers are only 9%, all to defuse the local citizens anger.

You all are paid to look after the majority and not play into the hands of few rich Developers. Jack up the interest rate and help restore decency to the property prices. We are not a poor country, but this ever increasing price rises will make a majority of people in this country very poor.
