

Regional banking

Since 2014 at Mount Pleasant South Australia the Bank SA branch and ANZ branch have closed permanently leaving myself and many others without a bank. Unable to draw cash pay off credit cards or even to check balances before one attempts to pay a bill. Please note for many of my age 70 are not adaptive easily to rising technologies like phone banking. Also in regional areas internet connections like wireless internet are not always reliable. The last 2-3 years have seen both branches mentioned close down. Christine Holgate, previous Australia Post director attempted to negotiate banking services pay Australia Post offices to initialise over the counter bank transactions. That was a commendable programme and should be enforced. If the banks report. $x billions of dollars profit why close branches, cut down staff, and try to goad customers into using auto teller machines as I notice now, while attempting to find a teller.
